Queen Victoria:
The Grandmother of Europe
Wednesday, February 19 | 4:00PM | PAC
Lecture Fee: $27 (Charged to apartment)
Speaker: Nancy Maxwell

A match maker extraordinaire! Her own marriage had been blissfully happy, but Victoria didn't seem to worry too much about the feelings of her own children. While chiding them about duty and obligation, she set them up with "appropriate" matches throughout Europe. A German prince here, a Russian duchess there – it was all part of the plan for the family, which would, to her mind, also guarantee the stability of the empire. How ironic that the rules did not always apply in her own life. Victoria dangerously neglected her own duties as queen and broke her own rules in her relationship with her Scottish servant. Explore the life and family of this very human, grandmotherly queen, whose grandsons ended up at war with each other.

Now serving Queen Victoria's favorite drink!

Please note: Any outside attendees must register via phone number provided by Life-styles.

One example that kindness can live.

'How The First US Presidents Shaped The Nation'

The founding father's hatred of kings, good or bad, was a deciding factor in choosing the concept of an elected official to lead the country. Washington feared that they too could in time become corrupted by power and stray. This talk describes how the first ten presidents had to perform a rather delicate balancing act for the first sixty years but eventually helped shape the nation.

The Coming Challenge from the BRICS Countries

Twenty years ago, the so-called BRICS countries: Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa were identified as countries with vast natural resources, large populations and growing economies that could eventually challenge the US and Europe for dominance in many areas of world affairs. In 2025 their aim is broader: to strengthen their roles in global governance and economic systems, cooperation and development among member states and other countries from the Global South (among them new members Argentina, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Iran) and to reduce reliance on the US dollar by enhancing financial coordination, developing local currency payment systems, and exploring the feasibility of BRICS-specific financial infrastructure. President Trump has threatened tariffs and that "they can wave goodbye to America" if they pursue the creation of a currency alternative to the US dollar.

America Goes to the Movies:
Harold Arlen's "Somewhere Over the Rainbow"

Though the 1939 film Wizard of Oz has become one of the best known films of all time, initially it was only a moderate success. By the year 2000, however, the film had not only become an American institution, but "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" was deemed the greatest song of the century. Come join Dr. Tom Cimarusti as he explores this musical gem, highlighting the song's genesis, its melodic simplicity and harmonic sophistication, and its ability to offer each of us a hope for something better -- to whisk us to another world where "troubles melt like lemon drops."
